2. The Client acknowledges and understands that trading on a pro-leverage accounts and transactions involve high leverage and significant risk, including the risk of loss/damage greater than the Client's initial investment and collateral amount. In such a case this loss/damage will be collected from the Client by our Company. There is a possibility of losing a part or all of their investment in a very short period. The Client hereby confirms that they are aware of these risks and are willing to assume them in their entirety. Before starting to trade, the Client should carefully assess their financial situation, and experience.
3. The Client is prohibited from engaging in hedging (scalping vs.) activities within two minutes of opening a position in their pro-leverage account. This restriction applies to all forms of hedging, including but not limited to, opening offsetting positions within this account or across multiple pro-leverage accounts managed by the Client directly or through a third party. Violation of this restriction may result in immediate account suspension closure of all the related accounts, and other remedial actions as deemed necessary by the Company.
4. By agreeing to these Terms and Conditions, the Client acknowledges their understanding of the account's terms, the inherent risks of leveraged trading, and agrees that they are making trading decisions based on their own judgment and at their own risk.
5. The exchange rates and spreads offered to you in leveraged transactions may not reflect the best price in the market. The company has no commitment in this respect.
6. The Company shall not be liable for any losses and damages incurred by the Client in connection with their pro-leverage account and the transactions conducted through this account.
7. The Client agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Company from any losses, damages, or costs arising from their transactions conducted through this account, breach of these Terms and Conditions or unlawful use of their pro-leverage account.
8. Any disputes arising out of or in connection with these Terms and Conditions shall be resolved pursuant to Article 46 of the the general terms of business.
9. These Terms and Conditions may be amended by the Company at any time with appropriate notice to the Client. Either party may terminate this agreement in accordance with the procedures outlined herein.
10. The Company reserves the right to request additional information and documentation from the Client for the purposes of identity verification, compliance with anti-money laundering regulations, or any other regulatory requirement. The Client agrees to provide such information and documentation in a timely manner. Failure to comply with these requests may result in account suspension or termination.
11. The Company reserves the right to request additional information and documentation from the Client for the purposes of identity verification, compliance with anti-money laundering regulations, or any other regulatory requirement. The Client agrees to provide such information and documentation in a timely manner. Failure to comply with these requests may result in account suspension or termination.
12. The Client shall provide accurate information regarding their tax residency and shall promptly inform the Company of any changes to their tax status. The Client acknowledges that the Company may be required to
